2.0 ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

2.1 Trust Accountability Program (TAP) award - Doug Folsom with Utah Local Governments Trust.

Loss Prevention Manager, Doug Folsom, from the Utah Local Governments Trust, presented the Trust Accountability Program (TAP) Award to the City of Cottonwood Heights. He explained that the trust has insured the City of Cottonwood Heights since its incorporation and helps implement best practices for risk management. He expressed gratitude to the City for supporting the trust and being involved in controlling and managing the risk factors.

2.2 State of Recycling Presentation- Pam Roberts.

Executive Director of Wasatch Front Waste and Recycling District, Pam Roberts, shared a video presentation regarding the recycling of plastics. She explained that the movement in China brought the issue of the plastics to the attention of the State. With the market being so rich, recycling vendors have limited the amount of materials and what can be accepted. Local markets are opening up for recycling processing.

Ms. Roberts reported that the Board has been discussing the public policy discretion and decided to continue with recycling while implementing an educational push with residents. A flyer has been developed on behalf of the local recycling vendors, Trans Jordan Member Cities, and Salt Lake City detailing what is allowed in the blue recycling can. She emphasized the importance of knowing that the thin, film plastics need to be deposited in alternate locations. Kroger has announced that within the next five years, they will no longer offer plastic bags. Ms. Roberts presented a cost report and stated that there has been a misconception that if items are thrown into the garbage, there is no increase in cost.

She described the financial breakdown and stated that landfill tipping fees on average run $32.85 per ton. Although there is still an increased cost for landfilling those materials, they are not proposing a fee increase. Individual fees were reviewed. She pointed out the Wasatch Front Waste website has a survey available and encourages every resident in the district to complete the six questions. The majority that have responded to this point would like to continue recycling and support paying the additional $1.00 per home per month. The Board will meet again on September 24, 2018 and present the survey results. It will be up to the Board to discuss the policy decision at that time.

Mayor Peterson asked if legislation is getting involved in the plastic issue. Ms. Roberts confirmed that there is legislation that did not make it through committee the first year and failed last year. California has a similar policy where they charge at the register should a customer wish to purchase a plastic bag. She believed that the best way to currently address this issue is for citizens to deposit clean, empty items in the recycling can.

Ms. Roberts explained that the recycling market fluctuates and was very rich in revenue for many years. There was a drastic drop when the market changed. They paid $25 per ton the previous year as stated in their contract. Ms. Roberts indicated that the need to pay more in recycling fees is largely due to the market for vendors. A fixed cost was not imposed due to the potential for a lowered cost due to the fluctuation.

3.0 CITIZEN COMMENTS

Mark Maclus identified five issues with the Canyon Center and explained how the footings are measured from the fault lines. He stated that the footings are poured and was not sure they are located in the right place. He asked the Council to address this issue.

Jin Frederickson asked that Council Members described explain their vote to allow transparency.

Jenny Nazaro appreciated the passing of the Idle Free Ordinance and felt that citizens were heard and able to make a difference. She expressed support for the formation of an Environmental Sustainability Committee. This type of committee would encourage thoughtful policy, accelerate innovation to preserve the environment and set out to reach 100% clean renewable energy goal and reduction in greenhouse gas emissions. She encouraged Cottonwood Heights to join the Carbon Neutral Cities Alliance who are committed to cutting emissions of 80% of more by 2050 or sooner. She considered a Sustainability Committee to be the best way to ensure that Cottonwood Heights creates a healthy community.
Nancy Hardy commented that because the Planned Development District (PDD) was created under the past City staff, she recommended the issue be revisited and updated. She encouraged the height of Tier 1 be reduced to a height that complements the surrounding area and not built to tower over it. She suggested clarifying the BMR percentages that developers are required to comply with.
