Cottonwood Heights City Council Meeting – 6/09/15
3.0 CITIZEN COMMENTS

3.1 Brett Garner reported that he received in the mail the Cottonwood Heights City newsletter. He stated that any political content in a city-funded letter is inappropriate and possibly illegal. If any federal funds are going toward the publication or staff’s preparation of the publication, it could be a violation of the Federal Hatch Act.

3.2 City Attorney, Shane Topham, thanked Mr. Garner for his comment and stated that he would review the information.

4.0 PUBLIC COMMENTS

4.1 Public Comment to receive input on the Possible Adoption of a Municipal Energy Sales and Use Tax under Utah Code Ann. 10-1-301 et seq

4.1.1 Joseph Blake Quinton stated that he considers this proposal by the State of Utah allowing cities to impose a tax where the tax base is not used directly to be a strange concept. He feels it is wrong to avoid local vendors, transfer those purchases by increasing taxes to oil companies, and ultimately increasing demand for their product. He commented that sales tax is the most regressive form of tax other than an income tax directly aimed at the poor. There is no relation to the item it is funding and it is highly cyclical. Sales tax revenue in a municipality also drops the fastest. It is Mr. Quinton’s opinion that to tax the weakest among the people and tax the local communities is wrong. He urges the Council to not proceed with the proposal.

4.1.2 Finance Director, Steve Fawcett, stated that the Municipal Sales and Energy Sales and Use tax is a tax that is currently authorized by the State Legislature and has been for several years. It is currently a 6% tax and involves the consumption of natural gas or electricity. It is collected directly by the company that provides the energy and is remitted directly to the municipality that assesses the tax. It is similar to general sales taxes and is to go toward the cost of providing government services. It is not tied specifically to a particular service. It is seasonal since usage varies from month to month, however, over a given year, they have an idea of what the revenue outlook will be. As a source of revenue, it is not as volatile as general sales tax in periods where purchases decline. In fact, it is the opposite and is based on energy consumption. As users conserve energy, it impacts the tax generated, however, that impact has not been as volatile as the general sales and use tax. It is a tax that every city in the State of Utah with a population of 15,000 or greater charges currently. Cottonwood Heights is the only municipality that has never imposed it. The City delayed as long as possible in order to be fiscally prudent and would not have proposed it had they continued to have surplus funds, which have been utilized for the past five years.

4.1.3 Mr. Quinton stated that he misunderstood the wording on the notice for the public hearing and his comments were intended towards the proposed gasoline tax that may be on the ballot in November.
4.1.4 Mayor Cullimore stated that this is a common revenue source for municipalities and Cottonwood Heights is the only city in the state that has not implemented it. It provides a diversified revenue source for the budget. Property tax is flat and has generated $6.5 million every year for the last 11 years while sales taxes have been volatile. The proposed tax will provide $2.4 million of revenue each fiscal year. It involves those who receive City services who sometimes do not have the opportunity to contribute as much to the cost of those services such as non-profit organizations, ecclesiastical institutions and businesses that lease property instead of owning it.

4.1.4 There were no further public comments.
